International Research Networks and Committee Membership

- Parental and Family Mental Health Worldwide - Support Through International Research, an international research network established in 2013 to: initiate, develop and sustain research collaborations and activities between international researchers in the area of families where a parent has a mental illness; provide expert support and advice and rigorous and constructive feedback to researchers in the field; foster teams of research collaborators focused around core research topics in the field, including methodological issues; and create working teams responsible for detailing research plans, including key themes, research questions, goals, methodology, grant and funding applications and future research.
- Kids in Action is an international research network established in 2016 to: increase the profile of participatory health research with children; offer local projects increased credibility in their efforts to fund and resource their projects; provide a platform for shared learning and development of these methods; and a means for generating resources to share with others to support the use of participatory health research with children; there is also scope for the Kids in Action network to be a platform for providing child input into debate about global issues.
- International Organizing Committee (2012-2014); Fourth International Family Mental Health Conference; International Young Carers Congress; and International World Congress on Children of Parents with Mental Illness (San Francisco, 2014), Lees, R. (Chair, British Columbia Working Group, Children of Parents with Mental Illnesses), Gladstone, B.M. (The Hospital for Sick Children, University of Toronto), Mordoch, E. (University of Manitoba), Nicholson, J. (University of Massachusetts, USA), Maybery, D. (Monash University, Australia).
- Cope – Children of Parents with Enduring Mental Illness (2012), Moran-Ellis, J., Odelius, A., (University of Surrey, UK) Gladstone, B.M. (University of Toronto, Canada) Östman, M., (University of Malmö, Sweden), Allan, H., (University of York, UK), Bendelow, G., (University of Sussex, UK); Current activity: Economic and Social Research Council funding bid and systematic literature review.

Teaching

Associate Director: The Centre for Critical Qualitative Health Research (CQ), University of Toronto

- CQ's Essentials of Qualitative Research (EQR) Course Series is a coordinated and integrated sequence of graduate courses in research methodology in the health sciences. In addition to developing the graduate curriculum, and program for continuing education, I teach current graduate courses, conduct international and local workshops and provide special lectures on qualitative research methodology.

Graduate Courses – Course Instructor

- Qualitative Analysis & Interpretation, Dalla Lana School of Public Health, University of Toronto, Assistant Professor (2014; 2016-2017) (EQR Advanced-level course)
- Foundations of Qualitative Inquiry, Lawrence S. Bloomberg Faculty of Nursing, University of Toronto, Adjunct Lecturer (2011 – 2014; 2017). (EQR Advanced-level course)
- Introduction to Qualitative Methods, Faculty of Rehabilitation Sciences, University of Toronto, Assistant Lecturer (Winter Term, 2011) (EQR, Introductory- level course)

Undergraduate Courses – Course Instructor

- Introduction to Qualitative Methods, Determinants of Community Health Course, 2nd Year Medical Student Lecture Series, Faculty of Medicine, University of Toronto (1998-2009)

Continuing Education: International Workshops

- Qualitative Analysis & Interpretation, Faculty of Education; and Faculty of Medicine, School of Indigenous and Rural Health, Monash University, Melbourne, Australia (July 2016)
- Doing Qualitative Research with Children and Youth, Faculty of Education, Monash University, Melbourne, Australia (July 2016)
- Show and tell: Articulating your methods to reveal the quality of your research. Instructor, two-day workshop for researchers, graduate students and post-doctoral fellows, sponsored by the Centre for Critical Qualitative Health Research, Continuing Education Program (June 2015, Palma de Mallorca, Spain)

Continuing Education: Local Workshops and Special Guest Lectures

- Mixed methods: Debates, strategies and challenges. Group leader, a half-day workshop for doctoral students, co-sponsored by the Centre for Critical Qualitative Health Research and the Health Care, Technology and Place Program (CIHR Strategic Research and Training Initiative) (February 2015)
- Qualitative analysis & interpretation (February 2015); Reading between the lines: Strategies for evaluating qualitative health research (March 2014); Doing qualitative research with children and youth (June 2014). Course developer and instructor, one-day workshops for academic and professional participants, sponsored by the Centre for Critical Qualitative Health Research, University of Toronto.
- Evaluating qualitative research: Approaches to critical appraisal; Course developer and instructor, an E-Learning course for the Healthcare Executive Training for Research Application (EXTRA) Team Fellowship program, Canadian Foundation for Healthcare Improvement (formerly, Canadian Health Services Research Foundation), (March - August 2012-2014)
- Joint Initiative on Teaching Qualitative Research Methods in the Health Sciences, the Wilson Centre for Research in Education and the Centre for Critical Qualitative Health Research, Faculty of Medicine, University of Toronto (2013)
- Sample Guest Lectures: Opportunities and challenges for qualitative research in public health. Public Health Ontario (Locally Driven Collaborative Project Program, June 16, 2016); Introduction to qualitative interviewing; Nursing, SickKids (2014-2016); Introduction to arts-based health research, Rehabilitation Sciences, McMaster University (2014).

Graduate Student Committee Membership

- 2016 Jannah Wigle (PhD candidate, Dalla Lana School of Public Health, University of Toronto)
Thesis title: The 'right to participate': Adolescent involvement in reproductive health policymaking in Malawi
- 2016 Katherine Mah (PhD candidate, Rehabilitation Sciences Institute, University of Toronto)
