- View financial account information and print invoices
- Defer your fees (register without payment)
- Enter bank information for direct deposit of award funds and refunds
- Request/Drop courses and view status of courses
- View academic history
- Order transcripts
- And more…
Registration

- Fees are assessed and billed to student accounts in late July.
  - Logon to ACORN to review and print your invoice – ‘Financial Account’

- PhD students in the Funded Cohort should defer their fees in ACORN. This will allow you to become Registered without making a fee payment.

- Your fees are due when billed. The deferral allows you to become registered and delays service charges to the end of the Winter term.
  - Fee payments are made at your financial institution
  - It is the student’s responsibility to ensure all fees (tuition, incidentals, other charges) are paid before the end of the Winter session - April 30

- Service charges begin to accrue on outstanding balances:
  - If fees have been deferred: May 15th
  - If fees have NOT been deferred: October 15th
