A. COURSE OVERVIEW

Goals and Objectives:

To understand current developments in statistical genetic/genomic methods and current analytic issues in genetic epidemiology.

To become familiar with sources of methodology literature for the design and analysis of investigations in statistical genetics, statistical genomics, and genetic epidemiology.

To develop critical evaluation skills for underlying theory and/or applications of current study designs and statistical analysis methods.

To develop skills in communication and presentation in an inter-disciplinary setting.

Audience: Senior Graduate students in Biostatistics, Epidemiology or Statistics

Pre-requisites: Biostatistics/Statistics coursework at the graduate level and instructor permission

Co-requisites:

Modern Statistical Genetics, CHL5224H Fall Term
<https://www.dlsph.utoronto.ca/course/statistical-genetics/>

Special features about course delivery:

One hour Research Seminar/Journal Club session, held 2-3 times per month, September through April with faculty participation.
Seminar sessions will be followed by one hour small-group discussion for registered students and other participants, with faculty discussion leaders

Co-ordinated with the monthly International Speaker Seminar Series (ISSS) organized as part of the STAGE Training Program in Advanced Genetic Epidemiology.

<http://www.stage.utoronto.ca/home/iss>

ISSS held Friday at 12 noon followed by Informal post seminar Q&A with guest speaker. Light refreshments served.

Group size for discussion: 6-12 trainees (PhD students and post-doctoral fellows).

Faculty Discussion leaders:

Shelley Bull, Dalla Lana School of Public Health & Lunenfeld-Tanenbaum Research Institute

Andrew Paterson, Dalla Lana School of Public Health & SickKids Research Institute

Academic deadlines:

Deadline for scheduling student presentations: 13 November 2020.

Deadline to submit a one page paper outline: no later than 12 February, 2021.

Due date for the Final paper: 9 April 2021.

B. ASSIGNMENTS AND EVALUATION

Students are expected to:

- (1) attend Friday journal club sessions and seminars, including STAGE ISSS
- (2) present in one journal club session, and
- (3) submit a short paper.

Pass/Fail according to

Participation in Seminars and Discussion Groups (Fall 2020 & Winter 2021)

Presentation (Late Fall 2020 or Winter term 2021)

Final paper (end of the Winter term 2021)

A pass is required in all three components

Some guidelines for the paper

Set up a meeting with course faculty to help formulate the research question that you want to consider in the paper, and discuss how to address it.

Submit a one page outline no later than February 12, 2021.

Final paper is due April 9, 2021.

Formatting and Length:

Any standard journal style is acceptable, see for example guidelines for authors in Genetic Epidemiology, Statistics in Medicine, Amer J of Human Genetics.

Please submit with 12 pt font, and 1.5 line spacing.

Length of 10-15 (max) manuscript pages, excluding references, tables and figures.

C. POLICY STATEMENTS

1. Academic Integrity: Academic integrity is essential to the pursuit of learning and scholarship in a university, and to ensuring that a degree from the University of Toronto is a strong signal of each student's individual academic achievement. As a result, the University treats cases of cheating and plagiarism very seriously. The University of Toronto's Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters outlines the behaviours that constitute academic dishonesty and the processes for addressing academic offences: (<http://www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/Assets/Governing+Council+Digital+Assets/Policies/PDF/ppjun011995.pdf>)

University of Toronto's policy regarding plagiarism:

<http://www.writing.utoronto.ca/advice/using-sources/how-not-to-plagiarize>

Potential offences include, but are not limited to:

In papers and assignments:

- Using someone else's ideas or words without appropriate acknowledgement.
- Submitting your own work in more than one course without the permission of the instructor.
- Making up sources or facts.
- Obtaining or providing unauthorized assistance on any assignment.

2. Turnitin.com: "Normally, students will be required to submit their course essays to Turnitin.com for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University's use of the Turnitin.com service are described on the Turnitin.com web site".

3. Accessibility and Accommodation: The University provides academic accommodations for students with disabilities in accordance with the terms of the Ontario Human Rights Code. This occurs through a collaborative process that acknowledges a collective obligation to develop an accessible learning environment that both meets the needs of students and preserves the essential academic requirements of the University's courses and programs. For more information, or to register with Accessibility Services, please visit: <http://studentlife.utoronto.ca/as>

4. Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion: As we all adjust to online classes and lectures, and increasingly participate in virtual learning environments, students are reminded of the expectation that we all demonstrate respect for one another. As outlined in the Student Code of Conduct, the University of Toronto does not condone discrimination or harassment against any persons or communities especially when based on grounds protected under the Ontario Human Rights Code. The University of Toronto recognizes its commitment to human rights, equity and inclusion and acknowledges the disproportionate impact COVID-19 has on various parts of our community. COVID-19 is not isolated to people of any particular ethnic origin, place of origin or race. Equity, diversity and respect must remain integral as we continue to transition during these challenging times. The institution will monitor and address discriminatory comments or behaviour including on U of T's online platforms and classrooms

In accordance with the Ontario Human Rights Code, no person shall engage in a course of vexatious conduct that is directed at one or more specific individuals, and that is based on the race, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age marital status, family status or disability. This includes:

- Racial slurs or "jokes"
- Insults due to racial identity
- Online posts of cartoons or pictures, in a workplace or school that degrade persons of a particular racial group
- Name-calling due to race, colour, citizenship, place of origin, ancestry, ethnic background or creed
- Pseudonyms or handles that are inappropriate about ancestry, colour, citizenship, ethnicity, place of origin, race, or religion

The University of Toronto's Equity Offices remain available to students to provide support on equity issues that arise as a result of COVID-19.

Students are encouraged to support one another and the University's commitment to human rights and our values of diversity, inclusion, and respect in managing any inappropriate comments or disruptive behaviours. If you experience or witness inappropriate comments or behaviours in your classes, you are encouraged to contact your instructor. If you can, take and share a screenshot of the inappropriate content with your instructor so they can follow-up with you and address the conduct.

5. Acknowledgement of Territory: We would like to acknowledge the traditional territories of the Mississauga of the New Credit First Nation, Anishnawbe, Wendat, Huron, and Haudenosaunee Indigenous Peoples on which the Dalla Lana School of Public Health now stands. The territory was the subject of the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement between the Iroquois Confederacy and Confederacy of the Ojibwe and allied nations to peaceably share and care for the resources around the Great Lakes. We would also like to pay our respects to all our ancestors and to our present Elders.
